A Repurposed Life

Old pianos and used coffee pots. Every church that's been in one place for any length of time has them. When I got here over seven years ago, we were no different and had more than our fair share of both. We had all of these Mr. Coffee coffee makers that had been donated to the church long after they stopped making a full pot of coffee in under fifteen minutes at home. And the same holds true for pianos. We had several. There was one in the hallway leading from the narthex to the administrative wing, there was one in the music room, one in the parsonage, and another tucked into a corner in the old sanctuary. We are currently down to two pianos, and it is a challenge to stay at just two as every once in a while, I get a call from someone wanting to donate a piano. I sympathize with them and politely decline their cherished instrument.

But this is a story about the piano we couldn't give away. It's the old Everett piano that was down in the old sanctuary. Our best offer was from a guy who said he would charge us $500.00 to haul it off. I don't know the background on this magnificent old piano, but my research told me that these pianos were made by the Everett Piano Company of Boston, Massachusetts in the 1890s. They were very popular and well built. I suspect that this piano came from either the Methodist Church in Chimacum or the one in Port Hadlock that were both established between 1900 and 1915, give or take a few years. Both churches were consolidated into our present church around 1960 and our piano made a shorter trip to its present location. Well, it got to the point it was taking up valuable space in our mission room and something had to be done. Not wanting to pay $500.00 to have it hauled away, a decision was made to dismantle it ourselves and haul it off. It was about that time I came up with the idea to make a desk for the pastor out of it. I approached Don Olsen, told him no was an appropriate answer, and asked him what he thought about making it into a desk. Don didn't hesitate and agreed to give it a try. The good thing about repurposing something you were about to throw away is that there is no real downside. All you're really out is your time. Don got to it and the project started taking shape with the removal of the piano string apparatus and the keyboard. As he encountered obstacles Don came up with creative solutions. He figured out a way to make two drawers out of the keyboard cover and he put in an undermount power strip complete with lighting. Then it was my turn to get involved. I gave the old piano a light sanding wanting to take off the layers of polish and still keep the original finish. I put two coats of matching stain and polyurethane on it which restored its finish. My goal was not to make it look new, but to show that it had aged with beauty. And now the piano resides in my office enjoying its repurposed life as a desk for the pastor and connecting us to our past.

But the real story is not in the life given to a repurposed piano. The real story is in that with Jesus' help and the guidance of the Holy Spirit we too can experience a repurposed life in service to God. For example, I started out as a police officer and then moved on to becoming a lawyer. When I got voted out of office at age 61, I figured I was done. I had no desire to open up another law practice. But God repurposed my life and had me assigned as a shepherd to his flock out on the Olympic Peninsula. What God has shown me is that life doesn't end at sixty, or seventy, or eighty, or even ninety. Our lives have purpose and meaning and although we can't do what we once did, if we turn our lives over to God, He can repurpose us giving us new life full of meaning as we seek to do His will and His way. Won't you allow God to step in and do a little repurposing in your life? It might just surprise you what more you can do.

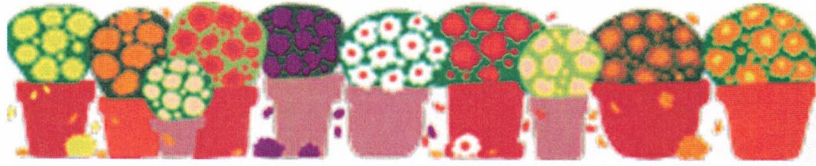

BEFORE....a beautiful instrument!

DON OLSEN....a master craftsman and a Blessing to the Church and its members!

AFTER.....a beautiful desk!

WORLD COMMUNION SUNDAY

and

UNITED WOMEN IN FAITH SUNDAY

EVERYONE is welcome to this special service at our usual 10:00 a.m. time. Together we will celebrate World Communion Sunday as well as United Women in Faith's history and work.

Rev. Dale Kelley will be leading us in Holy Communion and bringing the sermon. And, we are privileged to welcome Laura Love, nationally known recording artist and activist who will be sharing special music with us throughout the service. Laura will be accompanied by Jan Jacobson who plays with the local group Rhythm Ride. You will remember Rhythm Ride's wonderful performances here on several occasions.

Please join us for this special service and stay afterward for coffee, treats and a time to visit. Remember, ALL ARE WELCOME IN THIS PLACE!

Altar arrangements add to the worship experience. It really isn't a competition and everyone is welcome to share. It can be something you grow at your home, a potted plant, a bouquet. QFC & Safeway have flower departments. Someone in those departments may be willing to help you choose flowers and they will put them together in an arrangement. They also have ready made bouquets. We have large vases in the kitchen above the hand washing sink. You can bring your arrangement in honor or memory of a loved one. Sign up sheet is on the Narthex table.

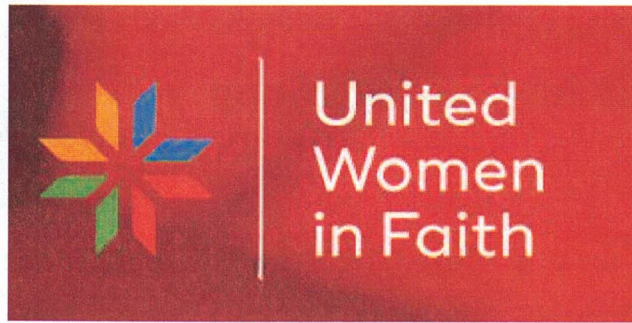

Hospitality:

Again, no competition. This is an opportunity for everyone to share. It helps to know something will be coming in, so no one feels they have to run to the store. 3-4 doz cookies should do and it would be great if you set up, clean up and take all leftovers home. Sign up sheet is on the kitchen counter near the Jesus cup.

A little organization simplifies things. We are Methodists, after all.

There's a Place for You!

UNITED WOMEN IN FAITH will meet on Thursday, October 5, at 10:00 a.m. at the church.

The program will be presented by Aimee Khuu from the Tacoma Community House. This is one of the UWF National Mission Institutions. We have made an annual donation to them for many years so it will be exciting to learn more about their work.

Since our speaker represents a National Mission Institution and is coming from a distance, we have invited other area UWF groups to join us. We will be servicing a salad luncheon after the program and ask that you bring a salad to serve a dozen people. Dessert and drinks will be provided.

Devotions will be given by Pat Chase.

I hope that you've marked your calendar for the meetings for the remainder of the year:

November 2 – Annual Lunch Out – Location to be determined.

Devotions by Marcy Wootan.

December 7 – Chorale Bells will sing for us - followed by our annual pot luck meal.

Devotions by Marsha Hamacher.

We will again be making goodie bags for our neighbors at South Seven and Pat's Place in December. Marsha Hamacher has agreed to lead this project again and you will be hearing from her with details.

We'd love to have you join us October 5th if you've not been to a UWF gathering before or if it's been a while since you were with us. Let's show our UWF sisters from other churches that we know how to do radical hospitality!

Please let me know if you need a ride - Diane Jensen, 402-290-1220 or dcjensen29@gmail.com

See you on Thursday, October 1st!

Beautiful altar flowers are provided each week by church members. We are so blessed with these lovely bouquets!

Soups On!

Saturday Soup Kitchen: Savior's Soup

I want to express my sincerest Thank You to all of the volunteers who have signed up for September and October. All dates are filled except for Saturday October 7th. I need volunteers who is already familiar with the process because that is the only day next month that I (Lori) will not be able to assist, guide and coach a new volunteer. Please help!

Here is the link to access the online sign-up sheet. And there is a hard copy signup sheet in the Narthex

https://docs.google.com/document/d/1Csppwd_nP1fifWg2cuy2TVNCOAyApth4BHnMclAMM4/edit?usp=sharing

Each week it takes two people to handle the soup kitchen:

One person is needed to prepare the soup, set up the sanctuary, serve our guests, and clean up afterwards. A double batch usually does it especially if you use an extender like pasta or rice. Don't let the cost of buying ingredients slow you down, there are funds available to reimburse the costs of ingredients if requested.

We also need an extra set of hands to help with set-up, clean up and interacting or fellowshiping with our guests.

There is always plenty of bread and corn muffins, so you only need to provide a double batch of soup—maybe more, come in and set up, serve, and clean up when done.

We have also discovered that hard boiled eggs are a BIG hit--especially to go--and they love fresh fruit such as bananas and tangerines. We need volunteers to make a dozen hard boiled eggs. And provide fresh fruit for each week.

The How to get involved:

Stop by any Saturday to get familiarized.

Talk to Lori on Sunday.

Use the online signup sheet or the signup sheet in the Narthex to volunteer.

Call Pastor Scott or the Church office at 360 385-1579.

Call Lori Oberlander at 360 620-0809.

Make a dozen hard boiled eggs.

Provide fresh fruit.

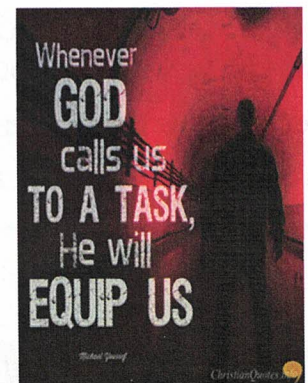

Prepare a double batch of soup.

Setup and clean up.

Come and participate in fellowship.

hours are 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. (this may change) and we serve about 15-30 people, including some to go.

Socktober 2023

If you've been around for the last few years, you know what month is approaching. No, not October, but "Socktober"! Yes, for those who do not know, Community United Methodist Church designates the month of October as Socktober month where we accept donations of warm and water-resistant clothing. Socks are the number one item requested at homeless shelters and our General Store is no exception. This time of the year those warm boot socks are in especially high demand.

So, think warm. If it gets cold, we want to keep it warm. We need donations of either gently worn or new items such as socks, gloves, hats, hoodies, sweatshirts, sweatpants, jeans, coats and jackets, boots and water-resistant shoes, rain ponchos, and other similar items. Because they are considered underwear, we prefer new thermal undergarments like the 32 heat long sleeve undershirts and other "long john" clothing. Our tiny home neighbors also like warm robes, pajamas, and slippers. So, go to your coat closet and see if you can spare any of those nice coats you haven't worn in a while along with those extra hats, gloves and scarves. Then check your closets and drawers for any of those warm items that you may have outgrown since last year. And, if you are of a mind to, new is always appreciated by our shoppers. Remember, the quality of what you give us to share with our neighbors speaks volumes as to what we really think about them. So please, no dirty, stained, ripped, torn, broken zippers, or missing button clothing.

Not sure what size to get? Well, our clientele comes in all shapes, sizes, and ages. Buy the size you would wear or if your kids or grandkids needed clothing. Sadly, we are seeing more parents coming in with their kids also needing clothing. That being said, check with your grandkids, tell them what you need, and use it as a teachable moment where they too can be a part of the solution. You can bring the items to the church or if you shop online, you can have them delivered to 130 Church Lane, Port Hadlock, WA 98339. If you have any comments or questions send us an email to: CUMC.donate@gmail.com and one of our missionaries will get right back to you.

Connie Ross stepped in to play in Sheila's

OUR MISSION FIELD
 our mission field is not inside the church
 It is down the street where the blind lady can't see her lawn
 has grown two feet
 It's at the barber shop where he's struggling to build his business
 It's two blocks over where a family of four has three cans of soup left on the shelf
 our mission field is on the streets, in the homeless camps,
 In the hospice house
 our mission field is where our eyes and feet and hearts lead us

The following list is a brief rundown of the various community programs and organizations with which the CUMC General Store has formed working partnerships. As a growing service we know that CUMC and the CUMC Store cannot eradicate hunger and the clothing needs of our community on our own. We intended from the beginning to seek out community partnerships to collectively address and serve the growing homelessness and hunger. Note that we do not use the terms: “unsheltered” or “food insecure”. Those terms seek to make more acceptable problems we have not yet solved. There are human beings who continue to exist and who live on the streets, out in our wooded areas or in rundown vehicles. They are homeless. They are hungry. The CUMC Store relies on and seeks to be a support to many of the community groups seeking to serve others in need.

American Red Cross: CUMC recently renewed its partnership with the local American Red Cross and we are once again a Disaster Shelter when emergencies hit the Tri-Area.

Bayside Housing Services: We help support the individuals housed in the various Bayside programs. Residents come over and shop at our store for food, clothes, shoes, bedding, household items and camping gear.

Better Living Center – Seventh Day Adventist Church, Port Townsend: This thrift store is run by the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Port Townsend. When our store has an abundance of clothes we take some to this store.

Caswell-Brown Homeless Encampment: Folks living in CB come over to our Store to shop. We also have two CUMC liaisons to the Camp who pick up food, clothing and other items and take them to the Camp. There are those people at C-B who are too frightened, too embarrassed or simply lack any transportation to come to u. We are thankful that we have trusted people who can take food and items to them.

Chimacum High School: We are pleased to let you know that this year we have been added to the “Community Service Opportunities” for High School seniors looking for a place to do their Community Service to complete their graduation requirements.

Discovery Shop/American Cancer Society: Marsha treks down to this great store in Silverdale when, again, we have an abundance of clothes to share with them. The Discovery Shop also brings us household items that they receive in their shop. And if something takes you to Silverdale, do stop at this shop. They have some nice things at great prices and proceeds help support the American Cancer Society.

Fancy Feathers Clothing Shop: Marsha, from our Store, takes some of “the finer items” that come into the store and FF sells them on consignment for us. Marsha has raised over $200.00 so far. We use the money to buy the shoes, boots & jeans that go the fastest in our Store.

Food Banks: Tri-Area & Quilcene: CUMC, as a Church, has long supported these two local Food Banks. Both Bank send shoppers to our store and occasionally share their abundance with our store.

Foster Support of Jefferson County: Fosters families from this program are welcome to come shop at the Store. Sometimes their volunteers pick up goods (like diapers) from our Store.

Grace Christian Church: This Church in Port Ludlow that that has sent us support money. There are also a couple of members of this Church who bring “loose change” to our Jesus Cup.

Humane Society of Jefferson County: This year CUMC formed a partnership with the Humane Society of Jefferson County. The HSJC has twice now given us dog and cat food for our store. Later this year we plan to do a pet vaccinations clinic with the HSJC at our store.

JCIRA: Larry & Diane Jensen belong to this immigrant rights organization and JCIRA has sent us two immigrant families who needed clothing, bedding and household items to help them settle into their new lives in the U.S.

Kiwanis of Port Townsend: The Kiwanis club has added CUMC to their quarterly donation groups to support our Mission efforts.

OlyCap: Well, we have a few different ways we work with OlyCap. OC leases the land for Margaret’s Village....low income apartments for seniors. Recently, OC has subsidized the rental of the bottom part of our Parsonage.

Olympic Angels: This is another Foster Care Support organization. We support OA the same way we do the Foster Support of JeffCo.

Pat's Place (PT) & Peter's Place (PH): Residents from these two Tiny House Villages come and shop at the CUMC Store for food, clothes, shoes, bedding, and small household items.

Peace Lutheran Church: This Port Ludlow based church has, since the beginning of the Store, supported us with volunteers who work side by side with us every Saturday. Jean Schubert from Peace Lutheran has been a volunteer at our Store for two years now and heads up our Children's Clothing Dept. Jean has brought us a "donation check" to support the Store with $$$$$. Jean S. has also asked her congregation for children's clothes and ran a children's "undie drive" there with enthusiastic support from the people of this church.

Presbyterian Church of Port Townsend: This is another Church that graciously sent us a check to support what we are doing at the Store.

Redeemer Lutheran Church: A Port Hadlock Church that has also supported our Store from the beginning. They keep us supplied with beautiful handmade quilts that fit the beds at Peter's and Pat's Places. They keep us supplied in quilts. Karen is a 93-year-old female member of Redeemer who bakes small loaves of bread every other week for our Store. She also makes beautiful pillowcases for kids. We all want to grow up to be like this woman!

St. Vincent de Paul: Through CUMC's assistance, the St. Vincent de Paul Society now comes to Peter's Place weekly to provide the residents with vouchers that can be used at our local laundromat.

Sunrise Rotary Club of PT: SRC recently provided the CUMC with a $500.00 Community Grant with which we purchased 25 solar lamps for homeless folks camping out or who are sleeping in their cars or RV's.

VetConnect: VC is an OlyCap program in Port Hadlock which serves military Veterans in our community. They send over to our Store any Vet who needs food, clothing, bedding or household items.

The Victorian Clipper Barber Shop: Debbie Hinton, owner of the Clipper, maintains a coin donation jar at her counter. Debbie has given Scott, our Pastor, jars of change to support our Missions. Debbie has also given us additional donations on a few occasions.

YMCA Program: The CUMC Store has recently struck up a partnership with the Hot Shower Program at the YMCA in PT. We have, four times now, provided this program with bath towels, wash cloths, soap, shampoo, conditioner and razors. The homeless folks in the area can come in for a hot shower and a chance to clean up.

I want to add a note to acknowledge the individual support persons who staff the Store on Saturdays and often, during the week. The CUMC Store volunteers are Marsha Hamacher, Sue French, Jean Schubert, Debbie Dodd, Ari Carter-Douglas, Anne Chapman, Connie Ross and Pat Chase. Our volunteers spend endless hours sorting through every item of clothing, shoes and household items coming to our Store to make sure they are clean, not stained or ripped and that buttons and zippers are working. Laurel Ankeny also helps us sort clothes occasionally and supports the Store in many other ways. The General Store could not function without the very hard work these individuals contribute to CUMC. We are blessed with the wonderful leadership and positive support in so many ways, from our Pastor, Scott Rosekranz!

GOOD NEIGHBOR EXPERIMENT

Discover Someone's Hidden Gifts

Engage anyone: friends, family and even strangers on a deeper level by helping them find their hidden gifts by asking a few simple questions.

Gifts of the head: Ask them about something that they know about? For example, if you notice something, you can ask them about it or ask them what they like to read. Have they read any cool articles or books? If they ever thought about teaching something, what would it be?

If you're nervous to ask about them, you can tell them about an article that you read or something that piqued your interest on the news or a program that you watched on television. Before you know it, you will have connected beyond a basic polite greeting.

Gifts of the hands: You can also ask them about something that they like to do in their free time. Ask them what they are good at making such as hobbies, interests, etc. When they tell you, affirm them by acknowledging their wonderful gifts and be curious about learning more about their skills and talents. You will be off and running in no time. Don't be afraid to share something that you like to make or do.

Gifts of the heart: Another thing you can use as a conversation starter is to ask them about something they care about so much that it moves them to action, what makes them happy or brings them joy.

These are all great ways to not only start learning about each other, we connect, and discover each other's hidden gifts.

Now go and find someone's hidden gifts—it is fun!

Attention All Bakers

Bakers are needed to Bake-for-a-Cause and help raise much needed funds for the parking lot paving project.

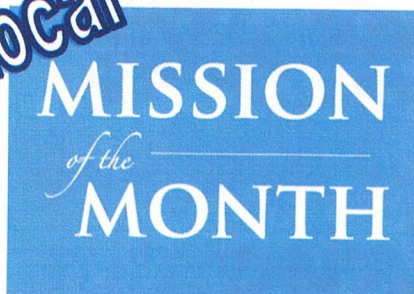

We are planning to hold a Silent Dessert Auction once a month during the fellowship time after church and we need bakers to show off their baking skills.

We need pies, cakes, brownies and more! Any dessert will be welcome and popular.

The Silent Dessert Auction will be held on the last Sunday of each month starting in September. Please let Lori Oberlander (at 360 620-0809) know if you are ready to help bake to improve our parking lot.

Local

CUMC supports three local organizations: Bayside, Tri-Area Food Bank and ECHHO. We donate a minimum of $500 each month to one of these three organizations in addition to donations collected from membership. CUMC also donates $100 each month to UMCOR as well to aid in natural disaster relief efforts. Any donations from church members that are designated to UMCOR are included each month.

Being the Somebodies Who Do Something In Jesus' Name

October 1, 2023 Upper Room . By John Hall

God's Open Table

I love birds, and I feed them at multiple locations. They are amazing creations of God, and I enjoy hearing and seeing them. They also remind me of Jesus' love and care as scripture affirms.

My feeding areas attract many different birds: colorful cardinals, perky wrens, cute chickadees, assertive mockingbirds. All these diverse species eat together, though they don't always get along. I am happy they enjoy their food side by side.

This reminds me of the parable Jesus shared with the chief priests and elders in Jerusalem shortly before his death and resurrection. His story of the king who prepared a wedding feast for his son and filled the banquet hall with all types of people is an example of how God loves us and delights in our presence, regardless of race, gender, creed or other differences. In fact, the king sent his servants throughout the town to ensure that all were invited.

Just as all birds are welcome at my feeders, so all people are welcome at the Lord's table! May we invite everyone to our faith fellowship, regardless of how we may differ. As Paul says, "Christ is all things and in all people" COL 3:11 CEB
